Photos: Take, Find, Share, Back Up

Your photos are the most precious thing on your phone. Four small skills cover everything.

Take

Find

iPhone: open Photos — newest at the bottom. Tap the magnifying glass and type "beach" or "dog". Samsung: open Gallery — same idea, search bar at the top.

Share

iPhone: open the photo → share button (box with arrow pointing up) → Messages → pick the person. Samsung: share button (three connected dots) → Messages → pick the person.

Back up

iPhone: Settings → your name → iCloud → Photos → Sync this iPhone. Samsung: Google Photos app → your picture → Backup → on. Turn it on once and forget it.

> The simple rule: every photo worth keeping should exist in two places — your phone and the backup.
